

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Does the player have to attend ECE's tryout to join ECE elite team for the 2023-2024 season?

Answer: Yes, the player must attend at least one tryout to be considered for joining an ECE elite team.

2. Can the player attend more than one ECE Tryout? And if so, does the player pay fees based on the number of tryouts?

Answer: Yes, players are welcomed to attend multiple ECE's tryouts during the open tryout period. However, ECE strongly suggests the player to attend the tryout according to their AGE GROUP as coaches for that AGE GROUP will be present and can answer questions adequately. Players pay one tryout registration fee and are allowed to attend multiple ECE tryouts.

3. Can I receive refund if I withdraw, unable to attend any tryouts due to illness/emergency/other conflicts, or not making a team after tryouts and I have completed the registration and made the payment?

Answer: No. ECE's Tryout registration fees are non-refundable.

4. What happens after the tryouts? When can the player expect to hear about the offer to make a team or not making a team?

Answer: Players will be notified at the end of their tryout or via email from ECE coaches if they have been selected to join an ECE elite team for 2023-2024 season, typically within 72 hours. Based on playing experiences and the need to balance team rosters, some players may be asked and permitted to play up an age level per the coach's decision.

Players invited to join an ECE elite team will have 72 hours to accept or decline a team invitation. The Players may also be waitlisted and will be contacted if a space becomes available. Players on the waitlist will be called up based on the availability of player positions and the player's relative skill and commitment to contribute to ECE's elite team. Invitations to players on the waiting list will be extended via email if a space on a team roster becomes available per the coach's discretion.
